Dear Robert:

I write to express my gratitude to you for your recent gift of technical advice and expertise to the College in the person of David Hutton. Like every other institution today, Stonehill is grappling with the demands of new technology. Staying abreast of developments, never mind ahead of them, is a constant challenge.

Please know that David really helped us to improve our understanding of the options and challenges that are before us. As chair of the Information Technology Committee at Stonehill, I am especially indebted to you for your generous assistance.

With renewed thanks and all best wishes, I am

Sincerely in Holy Cross,
